(Issuing Authority)

Your Affiant, Michael A. Carlson, is a Narcotics Agent with the Bureau of Narcotics Investigations, Pennsylvania Office of Attorney General, and as such is vested with the powers of a law enforcement officer in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and being duly sworn to law, deposes and says:

- 1. This investigation was initiated by Richard A. Sheetz, Jr., Executive Deputy Attorney General, Criminal Law Division, predicated on information received from the Honorable Cralg W. Stedman, Lancaster County District Attorney. District Attorney Stedman's referral was due to a conflict of interest related to allegations that Lancaster County District Magistrate Kelly Ballentine dismissed three summary traffic citations against herself which were issued by a Lancaster City police officer.
- 2. On September 1, 2011, I reviewed the case information sent to the OAG Criminal Law Division by the Lancaster County District Attorney's Office. This information contained the Investigative reports of Lancaster County Detective Dean Miller who was the Investigating officer for the allegations regarding Kelly Ballentine.
- 3. On September 19, 2011, I spoke with Detective Miller. He verified that all the Information contained in his investigative reports was true and accurate to the best of his knowledge.
- 4. The Honorable Lancaster County President Judge Joseph C. Madenspacher contacted the Lancaster County District Attorney in May 2011. Judge Madenspacher met with District Attorney Stedman and Chief County Detective Landis. Judge Madenspacher advised them that he had received some information from Lancaster County Deputy Court Administrator Thomas Weaver regarding Kelly Ballentine. Judge Madenspacher told District Attorney Stedman and Chief Landis that Weaver Informed him that Weaver was told that Lancaster County Magisterial District Justice Kelly Ballentine had dismissed citations issued to her by the City of Lancaster. Chief Landis assigned Detective Miller to investigate the allegations in late May 2011.

5. Detective Miller's investigation found the following:

- Three summary traffic citations were Issued to Kelly Ballentine In November 2010. Two were issued on November 1, 2010; one for an expired registration and one for a parking violation. The third citation was issued on November 8, 2010 for a parking violation. All three citations were issued by Officer Thomas Gjurich of the Lancaster City Police Department.
- Officer Gjurich wrote the three citations on a BMW sedan bearing PA license plate ELK3959. This vehicle is registered to Kelly Ballentine. All three violations were in front of Kelly Ballentine's home on North Street in the City of Lancaster.
- The system used to track citations and summonses in Pennsylvania is the Magisterial District Judicial System (MDJS) which is administered by the Administrative Office of Pennsylvania Courts (AOPC).
- The three summary traffic violations occurred within Kelly Ballentine's magisterial district and therefore were handled by Kelly Ballentine's office personnel. When Kelly Ballentine failed to pay the fines and costs associated with the three summary traffic violations within 30 days from the date of each violation, the appropriate summons process was initiated and the necessary data was entered into the MDJS. Summonses for the two violations from November 1, 2010 were mailed to Kelly Ballentine from her office. A summons for the third violation on November 8, 2010, although entered into the MDJS, was never printed out by anyone in Kelly Ballentine's office and therefore never mailed to Kelly Ballentine.
- Detective Miller determined that Kelly Ballentine never paid the $268.50 she owed for the three citations and that Kelly Ballentine dismissed those citations based on the following Information: (1) Officer Gjurich did not receive the money; (2) the Lancaster City Treasurer did not receive the money; (3) the MDJS showed that the money was not paid; (4) the MDJS showed that Kelly Ballentine accessed and dismissed the three summonses which had been entered in the MDJS; (5) it was determined that on the two summonses from December 29, 2010, that it was Kelly Ballentine's handwriting dismissing them which stated, "Dismissed 12/29/10 KB".

Your Honor, this is the case MR. FORRAY: It is the Commonwealth of docketed at 2045 of 2012. Ms. Ballentine Pennsylvania versus Kelly Ballentine. is present in court with her attorney, Royce Morris.

Your Honor, the Commonwealth and defense have reached a plea agreement for the Court's consideration, where the Commonwealth would be amending Counts 4, 5, and 6 of the Information. That would be tampering with public records or information, from a felony of the third degree to a misdemeanor of the second degree, by striking out the intent to defraud in those three different charges.

My understanding is the defendant is prepared to plead guilty to those charges today. believe the defense is going to ask that sentencing be deferred to a later date.

Additionally, Your Honor, the Commonwealth would be prepared at sentencing to nol pros Counts 1, 2, and 3, as well as 7, 8, and 9.

Your Honor, if I could briefly, on the record, just indicate from the Commonwealth's perspective the motivation for this particular plea agreement.

Your Honor, by way of background, I was not the original prosecutor on this case. I was reassigned the matter in September of 2012, after the defendant had been charged.

Your Honor, upon receiving the case, reviewing the case, as well as obtaining some supplemental materials from Mr. Morris and doing my own investigation, if you would, I learned that the defendant had been, in the last couple of years, cited a number of different times for traffic violations.

I would indicate by what I'm saying on the record, I don't want any misunderstanding, we're not excusing the defendant's actions in this case at all. She clearly did wrong.

However, the evidence would indicate that on a number of other occasions she paid her parking tickets. In fact, at the time that she had dismissed two of them in this case, she paid other tickets the day before, as well as a day or two after.

Additionally, Your Honor, the Commonwealth has reviewed medical records which show that Ms.

Ballentine had doctors' appointments either within a day or so of being cited on the first two occasions.

The third time she was cited, she was at the Urgent Care Center that very day.

The Commonwealth believes that the equitable thing in this case is to accept the plea to Counts 4, 5, and 6. We believe that justice would be done in this case.

THE COURT: All right. Makes sense to me.

I can't fault you there.

And our reasons for deferring the sentencing, as I understand it, and frankly I appreciate the opportunity to delay it because the greatest penalty that can be exacted in this case would be from a disciplinary review board, which would probably attempt to recoup almost a year's worth of salary from her or perhaps remove her from the bench entirely.

Until I know what they are going to do, I might be inclined to be very modest in what I would do. On the other hand, if they are not doing very much, I might do higher fines and things like that, since I don't think things have been taken care of.

Since they have the real authority in this case, I would rather see them act first before I impose a sentence and make it too harsh or too lenient, for that matter, because I want to see what they do first.

I think, with that in mind, I guess you don't have any sense of how those things move along.

It's already been up there for a year almost since they suspended her.

MR. FORRAY: Right, Your Honor.

THE COURT: That was in February of last year, I think the suspension went down.

MR. FORRAY: From my limited contact with the attorney for the Judicial Conduct Board, obviously they are following the goings on in court.

THE COURT: Sure.

MR. FORRAY: And I don't know what they will do, obviously, once they become aware of the plea in this case. So I don't know how quickly, frankly, they will or won't move.

THE COURT: All right. In any event, I have seen a plea agreement that has been signed and filled out there by you. Have you had adequate time to discuss this with counsel in terms of what we're doing right now, as well as what lies ahead?

THE DEFENDANT: Absolutely.

THE COURT: All right. And with that in mind and mindful of your position and education, I won't go through some of the normal colloquy that I would otherwise do, especially since we will be coming back to this at another time.

what we do now is an agreement with both sides, and we're going to wait and see what happens elsewhere first. 2 MR. FORRAY: Your Honor, do you want me at 3 all to go through the specifics of either Counts 4, 5, 6? 5 THE COURT: Actually, yes, you should. 6 we're saying 1, 2, 3, and 7, 8, 9 are gone? 7 MR. FORRAY: At the time of sentencing, we 8 would ask they be nol prossed. 9 For the record, Your Honor, I would be 10 asking that Counts 4, 5, and 6 be amended from a felony 11 of the third degree to a misdemeanor of the second by 12 striking the allegation of intent to defraud. 13 MR. MORRIS: And I would concur with that. 14 THE COURT: All right. Actually, it might 15 make sense, even though we are deferring things, if 16 $268.50 --17 MR. FORRAY: According to the Information, 18 it was $89.50. 19 THE COURT: Times three would be $268.50. 20 MR. MORRIS: We could pay the restitution 21 in advance and leave the Court to determine the costs. 22 THE COURT: That's what I think would help 23 you, too, in terms of moving along after this. 24 that out of the way. 25

And

MR. MORRIS: We will pay that restitution forthwith.

MR. FORRAY: Miss Ballentine, for the record, I'm just going to ask you a couple of questions.

For the record, could you please state your name.

THE DEFENDANT: Kelly Ballentine.

MR. FORRAY: And Ms. Ballentine, besides being a magisterial district judge, you, in fact, are an attorney; is that correct?

THE DEFENDANT: Correct.

MR. FORRAY: So you have both a college and a law degree?

THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

MR. FORRAY: I'm going to ask you just a couple questions in the next couple of minutes. If you have any questions at any point, please stop me. I'd be happy to explain them on the record.

THE DEFENDANT: Sure.

MR. FORRAY: You have completed a colloquy form. I think the judge has already asked you. Again, for the record, you don't have any questions regarding the colloquy form that you filled out?

THE DEFENDANT: I do not.

MR. FORRAY: And would I be correct that on the last page, that is your signature on the last page?

THE DEFENDANT: It is.

MR. FORRAY: Is it your intention to plead guilty to Counts 4, 5, and 6, as amended?

THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

MR. FORRAY: I will read it once. I'm not going to read the entire section, because I think some of it doesn't apply, at least as part of the Information, but the charge is tampering with public records or information, which is amended and would be a misdemeanor of the second degree, which would carry with it a potential of -- each of them would carry potentials up to two years in jail and/or a $5,000 fine.

It is alleged that you -- and these occurred on two different days. The first, Counts 4 and 5, would have occurred on December 29, 2010.

Count 6 would have been January 27, 2011.

By way of background, you had received citations prior to those dates; is that correct?

THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

MR. FORRAY: And would I be correct that on those two dates, as indicated, you went into the magisterial district justice computer system and, in fact, dismissed those tickets that you received?

THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

MR. FORRAY: In fact, on two of them, the citations that you had originally received on November 1, 2010, you had written dismissed on them, dated them, and put your initials. For the record, I'm showing you that at this point.

THE DEFENDANT: And that is correct.

MR. FORRAY: The charge of, again, tampering with public records or information indicates that, with the intent to defraud, you did knowingly make false entry or false alteration of any record, document, or thing belonging to or received by or kept by the government for information or record.

relates to Counts 4 and 5, that on December 29th, 2010, you went into the system and dismissed the citations you had received on November 1st of 2010.

Count 6 relates to on January 27, 2011, you went into the computer system and dismissed the citation you had received on November 8th of 2010.

Do you understand the charges on Counts 4, 5, and 6?

MR. MORRIS: She understands the charges, but at that colloquy you just introduced the intent to defraud, which has been removed.

MR. FORRAY: I'm sorry, and I do apologize.

That was my mistake. Not with the intent to fraud, but do you acknowledge that you, in fact, did what the Commonwealth alleges?

THE DEFENDANT: Yes. As long as the intent to defraud has been modified and removed from the complaint, I do understand.

MR. FORRAY: Right. And I would indicate for the record, so hopefully we're both on the same page, part of the motivation of the Commonwealth in this case is you entered the computer system, in fact, under your own initials, your own sign-in.

You, in fact, dismissed and wrote dismissed on the citations you had received on November 1st, again, signing your own name, not signing anybody else's name.

So based on what I have indicated, striking the intent to defraud, how do you plead to those charges?

THE DEFENDANT: Guilty.

THE COURT: All right. What else might we do today?

MR. MORRIS: Your Honor, we will just await a scheduling date from you for sentencing.

THE COURT: I will wait to hear from, frankly, one of you as to what happened.

MR. MORRIS: I will submit a sentencing memorandum in any event. Tony and I will collaborate on when it will be best to come before you.

THE COURT: As I say, I can't get over the irony of dealing with a case like this the day following ten judges being indicted in Philadelphia for ticket fixing. That all has to do with ward leaders and politics. This is just you, not that that's anything other than -- every kind of breakdown in the system is a big deal, regardless, and certainly that's why we're here.

All right. We will come back and see you in a month or so. I hope it's sooner, but we'll see.

MR. FORRAY: Your Honor, there will be no pre-sentence report; is that correct?

THE COURT: I don't know that I need one.

I mean, I'm talking about somebody who has, you know, run the educational gamut and did other things before you became a judge, which you will put in your memo.

MR. FORRAY: The Commonwealth will have sentencing guidelines for Your Honor at sentencing.

THE COURT: All right.

MR. MORRIS: Thank you, sir.

MR. FORRAY: Your Honor, we would ask that the colloquy form be made part of the record in this case. Indeed. THE COURT: (The hearing adjourned at 2:52 p.m.)
